

Health and Safety Policy

Fabufacture Ltd is committed to high standards of health and safety. It is our policy, as a company, to maintain high standards and to encourage our staff to contribute to their own welfare and that of their colleagues and learners. Maintaining a safe and healthy working environment place demands on everyone but the resultant benefits are worth the effort.

Ensuring safety awareness, positive attitudes and continuous improvement in safety performance requires the commitment and active involvement of all the team.

Our objectives are, so far as is reasonably practicable, to prevent accidents, resulting in injuries, ill health and/or damage to property, and also to conserve the environment.

General Policy

Fabufacture Ltd recognises its obligations under the Health and Safety at Work Act 1974 and related legislation.

The company will conduct its activities and so far as is reasonably practicable:

- Protect the health and safety of its employees and others that may be affected by its activities.
- Limit adverse effects on the physical environment in which those activities are carried out.

Fabufacture Ltd recognises that the skills and energies of its employees are amongst its greatest assets and it has a responsibility to provide for their welfare and equally for its learners, contractors, vendors and visitors. So far as is reasonably practicable, Fabufacture Ltd will:

- Provide and maintain safe working environments and practices that do not constitute risks to health, safety and welfare.
- Formulate standards and policies that comply with relevant statutory requirements in respect of health, safety, welfare and the environment, as they affect employees, learners, contractors and the public.
- Actively promote a positive health and safety culture through the development of good practice.
- Safeguard employees, learners and all others from foreseeable hazards with regard to health, safety or the environment, in current processes, practices and working systems.
- Ensure that, when new substances, plant, machinery, equipment, processes or premises are introduced, adequate guidance, instruction and supervision are provided for safe methods of work to be developed.
- Train employees to be aware of their own responsibilities in respect of health, safety, welfare and environmental matters, and to ensure they actively participate in good practice that leads to the prevention of accidents and occupational and non-occupational injuries and diseases.

- Without detracting from the contractor's own legal responsibility, Fabufacture Ltd will ensure that contractors are informed of relevant associated risks, have been made aware of safety procedures and are monitored for compliance.
- Use where reasonably practicable advice and guidance to promote good health and to avoid occupational and non-occupational injuries and disease.
- Establish procedures for monitoring compliance with the safety standards and co-operate with authorities and technical organisations, to ensure policies are kept up to date.
- Establish safety forums to maintain effective control of health and safety measures.
- Ensure these objectives are fulfilled through auditing activities, either internally, through competent assessors, or by external consultants.

Application

- This policy, supported by approved procedures and detailed safety rules contained in the company H&S manual, applies to all activities carried out by, or on behalf of Fabufacture Ltd.
- The Health and Safety Director and all Directors and Managers are responsible for ensuring this policy is applied in the areas for which they are responsible. All employees, at all levels, are required to comply with the requirements of this policy.
